

The background is a complex abstract painting. It features thick, expressive brushstrokes in a wide range of colors including deep blues, bright oranges, yellows, greens, and purples. The composition is dynamic, with swirling, ribbon-like forms that seem to flow and twist across the canvas. There are also areas of more textured, layered paint, particularly in the lower right and bottom center, suggesting depth and movement. The overall effect is one of intense energy and visual complexity.
